We are submitting on the lead applicant's behalf during their pre-application due diligence. Question 1 — § 3.1 Category Selection The prospective lead applicant operates multiple Florida clinic sites delivering women's-health primary care, OB/GYN, and behavioral health services. Clinical leadership at the Florida sites combines MD medical directors with certified nurse-midwives and women's-health nurse practitioners delivering primary obstetric and gynecologic care. Under § 3.1, would the Agency consider this entity profile better suited to filing as a "physician group and multi-specialty medical practice" or as a "nurse practitioner- or physician assistant-led primary care practice"? Are there specific elements of Section C — Organizational Capacity and Eligibility documentation that the Agency would expect to see to distinguish a successful Stage 1 review under each category?	identifying and putting forth the entity type that is most appropriate for their proposed program. Please also see Addendum No. 3, Item 2 - General RHTP Questions and Answers, answer to Question #12.
Purity Health	§ 3.2 Min Qual #4 Five-Year Continuous-Operation Test Where the Florida Filing Entity Is a Subsidiary The prospective lead applicant is structured as a Florida-authorized legal entity that is a subsidiary of a parent organization headquartered outside Florida. The parent organization has more than five years of continuous operation delivering primary care and women's-health services across multiple states. The Florida subsidiary itself was registered with the Florida Department of State in 2025 and may have less than five years of standalone Florida operating history as of the June 10, 2026 application deadline. May the application reference the parent organization's enterprise-level operational history to satisfy § 3.2 Minimum Qualification #4, with the Florida subsidiary serving as the filing entity for purposes of Minimum Qualification #1 (Florida authorization)? If so, what documentation linking the parent organization's history to the Florida filing entity will the Agency expect to see in Section C — Organizational Capacity and Eligibility? We appreciate the Agency's guidance on these points in advance of the application deadline. Please let me know if any further clarification on the entity profile or the partnership structure would help the Agency provide a complete response.	See Addendum No. 3, Item 2 - General RHTP Questions and Answers, answer to Question #12.
QHS Labs	Are there pre-application convenings, informational sessions, or stakeholder forums organized by AHCA where QHSLab could present its platform capabilities to prospective lead applicants?	No.
MedCerts	Are you able to help us locate the opportunity within the MyFloridaMarketPlace Vendor Information Portal and/or register for the webinar?	See Addendum No. 3, Item 2 - General RHTP Questions and Answers, answer to Question #1.
